

DISRUPTIVE BEHAVIOURS IN LEARNING DISABILITIES

This one-day course will enable front line support learning disabilities workers to respond positively to people they support with disruptive behaviours in order to improve the lifestyle and communication of people who challenge services

WHO IS THIS COURSE FOR

This course will have most relevance for all front line care/support staff who need to have awareness of how to respond to people they support whose behaviour is challenging and disruptive in learning disabilities services

SUMMARY OF CONTENT

- The functions of disruptive behaviours.
- Identification and recognition of disruptive behaviours and the circumstances in which they occur.
- Responding and not reacting.
- Positive behaviour management techniques.
- Components of a behaviour support plan.
- Supporting people whose behaviour is challenging and disruptive.
- Developing organisational policies on responding to people who challenge services.

This Course is available as an 'in house' commissioned training programme for up to 30 people.

Further details can be obtained from

Matrix Training Associates

e: office@matrixtrainingassociates.com

☎ 01256 398928 Fax 01256 398929

