DEPRIVATION OF LIBERTY SAFEGUARDS

A One Day Course

The Deprivation of Liberty Safeguards has a considerable impact on NHS, PCT and local authority staff. In 2004, the Bournemouth judgment in the European Court of Human Rights made a clear statement; a person lacking capacity could not be kept in an environment which detained them without formal legal authority. In other words, an 'informal' or 'voluntary' admission of those lacking capacity to consent to admission was unlawful if the person was subject to care conditions that were so restrictive it effectively resulted in their detention.

The Deprivation of Liberty Safeguards (DOLS) which amend the Mental Capacity Act are designed to resolve the 'Bournemouth gap'. The DOLS will ensure that where a person lacks capacity and the Mental Health Act is not or cannot be used to secure their detention, there is a viable legislative alternative. Without it, those placing or keeping someone lacking capacity in care homes and hospitals under certain conditions without legal authority can face legal challenge.

Staff need to know how the new legislation will affect them, their working practices and the people they provide services for. This course provides the essential knowledge that staff need in order to work with and implement DOLS effectively and ensure compliance with the legislation. Practical issues in using the legislation are addressed.

WHO IS THIS COURSE FOR?

All mental health and learning disability staff (NHS or local authority) who work in situations where people lack capacity to admission and care and are placed on wards or in residential care.
